TRAVELETTE

By NIKSAH.

GOING TO THE FAIR. All over the United States this is the open season for going to the fair. During this and last month, thousands of people have been flocking to the county fairs and community fairs have flourished, and there are still more coming. County fairs have been held for many years, but never have they been so popular as they are now. The country people everywhere, having cut the corn and stacked the hay, are now flocking to the fairs and enjoying the fair week are again overflowing with humanity. The country people everywhere, having cut the corn and stacked the hay, are now flocking to the fairs and enjoying the fair week are again overflowing with humanity.

Everyone in the United States used to go to the fair, before our cities became so large. It was then an occasion when farmers and city people met and mingled. It is that no longer. Most of the people in New York and Chicago never leave their city and wouldn't go half a block to see one. They have no interest in prize roosters and mammoth squashes, and yet in three-half games and collops.

Yet if anyone wished to study the United States of America in all its geographical variety, he could not do better than go to the fairs. In the fall of the year and visit as many different fairs as possible. He would learn more about the different varieties of American people, and the regional variations of American industry in one fair season than in a year of ordinary observation and travel. He would see the fairest of the "Virginian and Maryland" horse country, where racing is the leading attraction, and more fine horse flesh changes hands than he ever thought existed. He would go to the Middle West where corn and hogs are supreme, where the county fairs are expressive of all the fatness and wealth and sun-pleasure of the world. And perhaps he would attend one far western fair, such as the New Mexico state fair at Albuquerque, where they still have stereotyping and broncho-busting contests, and a tribe of Indians in full regalia to dance a war dance.

This winter, however, would sleep on porches and in battlements and eat standing up and swallow dust and waste through mud, but he would be getting a true insight into that major part of the United States which is outside of city limits.

Dyspepsia and Home Life

What a Relief When All the Family Eat the Same Foods! Avoid Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Gas—Indigestion from Breakfast Sausage to Dinner—Mince Pie.

After mother has struggled two or three hours over a hot fire to do the cooking for a hungry family, it is real enjoyment when there isn't a dyspeptic jinx among them. Of course, a case of dyspepsia or daily indigestion must be looked after. But it is far more to the point to prevent as well as to treat your stomach, belching, water brash, etc., by such a valuable means as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Coddling the stomach with soft food and pre-digested stuff merely invites sluggishness.

Health Happiness

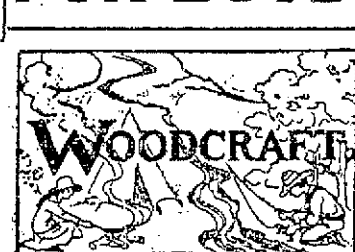

To Be Free of Indigestion Contribute Wonderfully to the Happiness of Home Life

Put your little pork sausage for breakfast without fear. Add a few bits of beans and a piece of pie with cheese for lunch, and end the day with a real dinner, instead of a bowl of bread and milk. Follow each meal with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet and get right back to your normal self.

These tablets digest food and assist the stomach to prepare the content for assimilation in the intestinal tract. Thus you get the practical relief and help which induces a better appetite and a greater freedom in the selection of foods. You will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on sale at any drug store in the United States and Canada, as they are considered one of the stand-bys by the druggists.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

WOODCRAFT

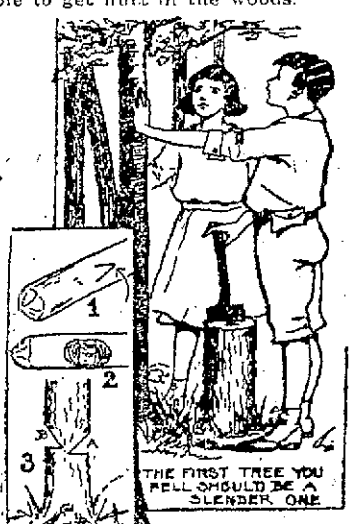

How to Use Your Belt Aze

By ADELLA BELLE BEARD. A good belt aze, or tomahawk, will do most of the work of the ordinary heavy ax, and does that, require as much strength to handle. You can cut down fairly good sized trees, chop logs white out and drive down tent pegs, chop off branches, split fire wood with it.

TRY CHOPPING LOGS before you attempt to fell a tree. Clear away all vines and underbrush within reach of your moving axe; it may catch on them and cause a serious accident; then stand over the log and, swinging your axe from right to left, make a long cut on the side away from you—not on the top—diagonally across the grain of the wood. (Fig. 1) If this does not reach far enough, try again, then chop on the base of the chip to cut it entirely off.

Do not hurry. Take deliberate aim and strike a sure, unwavering blow. Do not try to cut deep cuts that will wedge your axe and means hard work. Make the notch, or "kerf," wide like Fig. 2 and then remove the half of the log to ground the log and chop the other side until the second kerf is cut through to the first and the two sections fall apart.

TO CUT A LOG PROPERLY, your first stroke should be a slender one—chop a "kerf" on the side you wish the tree to fall. (A. Fig. 3) and another on the opposite side a little higher up (B. Fig. 3), leaving a thin wall between. When warned by a slight movement at the top of the tree and the sound of cracking wood, step quickly to one side, never in front or behind. Otherwise the tree will fall on you, or the trunk should be cut and the stump removed as well as the tree. Stand at one side and, unharmed, watch it fall. It is unpleasant, but it is well as uncomfortable to get hurt in the woods.

THE FIRST TREE YOU FELL SHOULD BE A SLENDER ONE

LOST A. E. F. BAGGAGE IS HELD AT HOBOKEN

The following letter has been received by the local Red Cross chapter:

There are at present approximately 150,000 pieces of lost baggage belonging to members of the A. E. F., on the government docks at Hoboken, N. J. The baggage includes 100 trunk lockers, 15,000 bed-rolls, 5,000 suit cases, and 110,000 baggage bags which have come from overseas and remain unclaimed by their owners.

"Much of this baggage is marked with names only and cannot be forwarded to the owners. In such cases a new shipping address is required. All owners of lost baggage should forward their claims and present addresses to the Lost Baggage Branch, Pier No. 2, Hoboken, N. J., with an accurate description of the missing property."

"A complete card index permits prompt identification and the baggage will be forwarded at Government expense by express if on hand at Hoboken."

"The Red Cross desires to assist each man from overseas to recover his lost property, as well as to help the government to dispose of this enormous accumulation."

"National Bird" Will Be Scarce And High

(By INTERNATIONAL NEWS.) Washington, D. C.—Early reports from the production centers of the turkey indicate that there will be a shortage of a national bird toward the end of the year. The shortage of the "national bird," according to the reports, rival the present shortage of sugar. The shortage is due to acute drought over the country. Texas, one of the largest turkey producing centers, reports a flock much better than the average.

FIRST FLYLESS TOWN

Saratoga Lake, N. Y.—The health authorities here claim that the town is the first "flyless" in the world. Despite the unusually hot weather during the summer there were hardly any more flies than most places have in January, and the prediction is complete that next year there will be none at all.

It cost the town about $1,000 to eradicate the fly nuisance, which was accomplished by requiring that manure be screened and frequently removed.

ADVENTURES THAT MADE AN AMERICAN

Hunting Eye Goes to Church

By R. S. ALEXANDER.

Hunting Eye heard music came from a building near by. Often in the front North Woods the Indian boy heard the old women of his people singing to the poposes in the evening, of the melody men heard the young braves. But he had never heard such music as this.

Unconsciously he climbed the great stone steps and entered through the big, open door. He found a little room with another big door beyond; he opened it, and saw before him a wide hall with people on benches on each side and many people in the center. At the end of the path stood a tall man in black behind a big, paneled desk. Hunting Eye walked down and sat on one of the benches. After a long time the people began to leave. The tall man in black came to Hunting Eye.

"Why do you come to church, my boy?" he asked.

"What is church?"

"You people worship the Great Spirit and do as He says. The medicine man talk with him and receive his messages. They give these rules to you. Our Great Spirit also makes rules for his worship. These rules are written down. Men called 'preachers' like this medicine man of your people explain the rules and tell you how to live up to them. The people worshiping our Great Spirit are divided into groups called congregations. The building in which the congregations meet is called a church. The whole body of persons worshiping our Great Spirit is called the Church."

"Is the Church part of the Government?"

"No they are separate. The Church usually urges the people to obey the laws. It often advises as to what laws should be made. But it does not really make or enforce the laws. Most of the men who run the Government belong to the Church, so that it has a deal to say as to how things are run."

As Hunting Eye left the church he had a new respect for the Great Spirit of the white men who were worshiped so grandly.

QUESTIONS

1. How does the Church help enforce the laws?

2. How does the Church help make the laws?

3. Give an example of a law which was made largely through the work of the church.

Hindenburg in "Civics," Ordinary Looking Person

(By INTERNATIONAL NEWS.) Manchester, England—Picture, if you can, the great and military Hindenburg in "civics." It is a very ordinary looking individual he is, according to a Guardian correspondent who has viewed his daily walk. He seems ready to burst out of his clothes which usually consist of a rough coat, Panama hat and not very well cut trousers.

His dress is not at all showy, or indulges in antics out of all keeping with the dignity of his owner.

WALWORTH CO. FARM NOTES

By L. L. OLDFHAM

Don't be the goat! Smith B. Morrison, the well known Walworth county abstractor, tells of a new method now being used by the land sharks to catch the unthinking and extremely honest land owners. It works like this—Mr. Brown from Iowa comes to the county fair and buys a horse. Mr. Jones' farm and personal property. Mr. Brown pays down $300 and the horse and farm and I'll pay you the balance just as soon as I sell my land out there.

Have several men could not sell until I found another. Accordingly the deal is closed and Mr. Jones under the hood of the horse and farm, etc. to Mr. Brown. A farm sale is immediately arranged and Mr. Brown realizes $500 to $700 dollars from the sale of the horse and farm.

The 3000, belonging to Mr. Brown which was paid as down payment but Mr. Brown has two to three thousand dollars more in the horse and farm which rightfully belongs to Mr. Jones. After the sale Mr. Brown disappears and is not heard from any more.

Mr. Jones or Mr. Brown, what's that? It is a matter for dispute and possibly for the court. Why don't you come to church, my boy?" he asked.

"What is church?"

"You people worship the Great Spirit and do as He says. The medicine man talk with him and receive his messages. They give these rules to you. Our Great Spirit also makes rules for his worship. These rules are written down. Men called 'preachers' like this medicine man of your people explain the rules and tell you how to live up to them. RED CROSS RECEIPT GIVEN FOR EVERY VOTE

The only "election" in which a receipt is given for every vote.

That is the way the third Red Cross election has been conducted. Every person who joins the Red Cross during the roll call, Nov. 2 to 11, will be given a button, and a window service flag. These indicate that that person has cast a vote of confidence in the American Red Cross.

The service flag is 7 and one-half by 11 and one-half inches and consists of a large red cross on a white background, with the figures "1919" in blue beneath the cross. Three blue stars around the outer edge of the service flag indicate the three annual membership rolls. The flag should be displayed when the first member of the household joins and should be kept on display throughout the year. As other members of the household join additional service stars will be provided. It should be placed in position upon the flag.

Homes that do not display service flags will be solicited again during the last two days of the roll call.

MERCHANTS ARE NOT
PROFITEERS SAYS
STATE RETAILER

"Dry goods and ready to wear garment stores are not profiteers. It is true that prices for wearing apparel are high but the same holds good in all lines of goods. The public can expect a change in the prices as soon as the labor unrest is somewhat adjusted and as soon as there is an increase in production. Then prices are bound to come down."

These statements were made today by Oscar H. Morris, Milwaukee, secretary of the Wisconsin Retail Dry Goods association. Mr. Morris will visit the trade here and discuss convention plans with some of the merchants, including S. C. Bostwick, who is a director of the association.

The organization is making a membership campaign with a view of strengthening the organization to such an extent that a hard fight may be made against unfair trade practices. There are numerous bills pending in congress which, if passed, will mean additional hardships to the retail dry goods dealer. The Wisconsin branch of the national organization is working hard to defeat such legislation.

The organization is securing new members every day," declared Mr. Morris. "Three Janesville stores are members but we hope that all others will join. At present we are fighting the Seigel and Jones bill in congress and in the senate respectively. Much other work must also be done so there will be no further increase in prices."

The 1920 convention of the Wisconsin Retail Dry Goods association will be held in Milwaukee the second week in January. The tentative program includes talks by prominent merchants from various parts of the United States.

This Odd Fellow Intended To Reach Convention On Time

Starting a day ahead of time was the experience which Charles N. Riker of this city had yesterday when all in good faith he set out by automobile to attend the annual district association meeting of Odd Fellows which is being held in White-water today.

Mr. Riker got as far as Lima Center, where he met an Odd Fellow who happened to be an Odd Fellow. In talking Mr. Riker happened to mention that he was on his way to attend the district meeting at which the convention did not start until today.

He had to turn around and drive back home but anyhow he said that he would make a good visit. He attended the meeting today.

The ROMANCE of TRUE STORIES of BUSINESS SUCCESSFUL WOMEN
BY EDITH MORIARTY

When Claire Lewis finished high school she was engaged to Jerry Brown, a likeable young chap who worked for the railroad. Claire spent a week at home preparing for her wedding and waiting for Jerry to earn enough money for two. Then the two were married. It took Mrs. Jerry fully two years to become such an expert housewife that she sometimes could find nothing to do on the days when Jerry would be out on a long run.

The Browns lived in a pretty little bungalow in one of the most suburbs of a large city. Mr. Jerry was finally given a run which kept him out of the city except over the weekends and Mrs. Jerry found life a tedious affair. Clubs and feminine movements could not interest her day and night for five days of every week, and she started serving lunches and teas on five days of every week. Finally she began to search earnestly for a way to make life more interesting and more home and care for it.

Mrs. Jerry's "Big Idea." She read magazines for "helpful hints," studied fiction books, and bethought herself of her father's long stewardship and management of the hotel dining rooms throughout the country. She hit upon a plan that has brought her happiness and a full return on practically no investment. She talked the plans over with Jerry, who objected a great deal at first, but then, when she told him how lonesome and bored she was all week long and how she would always be room" came into existence, much to the delight of all the teachers, girls and mothers in the suburb where the Jerry Browns lived. Mrs. Jerry, whose bungalow dining room opened onto a side porch which is effectively screened from the street by heavy vines, made the attractive part of her house earn money for her. She started serving lunches and teas there to school teachers, librarians and office girls who passed her house on their way to and from work.

Informality Draws Pupils. Everything she served was home-made, her very own. She served loaf cakes at 5 cents a slice, layer cakes and pies at 10, and tasty puddings were usually on the menu. Coffee in big cups she served for 5 cents, and a pot of tea with enough for three cups was the same price. On the theory that water is cheap. There was usually toast with butter or marmalade, and olives and pickles for the girls who "just love them." The guests dropped in rather informally and made themselves at home in her cozy living room or on the porch, playing the piano or reading, while they waited to be served.

When Mrs. Jerry feels like fussing she sometimes serves a substantial lunch menu of breaded chops, mashed potatoes, bread and butter and devil's food cake. Then some days when she is tired, she may only serve potato salad, weiners, macaroni, or some other light dish. She is a very systematic little worker and does everything by a regular outlined plan. She does not 6:20 every morning, does her baking, housework, cleans the dining room, sets the small folding tables which she uses, and is ready to serve lunch at 11. At 3 she begins tea. She is used to be cook, waitress and dishwasher, but with her first earnings she bought a dishwasher, because that was the only part of her work she disliked. She serves with the aid of a tea cart.

Success Not Matter of Money. She keeps strict account of her expenditures and while she never puts her tea room to use one cent of her house money, she sometimes lets her own table, especially on Saturday and Sunday, when Mr. Jerry is home, partake of tea room goodies. While Mrs. Jerry Brown's success cannot be measured by an income of extraordinary size like that of many women in big business, yet she has done something distinctly worth while for her community, she has taken up a task which keeps her happy and contented, her venture is easily a paying proposition and more than everything else, it has not broken up her domestic life or interfered in any way and this may surely be called success.

MAKING MONKEYS OF MEN.

A full generation having passed since the pathetic case of Dr. Brown-Sequard was forgotten, it may be believed the world is ripe for a day of wonderment over the discoveries of Dr. Serge Voronoff. Brown-Sequard was going to restore the aged to youth and virility by pumping into men an elixir of his own concocting and which he had tried out on himself. He was 71 at the time and he lived five years longer, but long before death mercifully relieved him of the misery of contemplating one of the highest reputations in medical history laughed to scorn throughout the world, he had admitted that his "elixir of life" had no power to do more than buoy the hopes of the credulous before taking.

Dr. Voronoff appears to have profited little from the experience and disappointment of Dr. Brown-Sequard. True, he does not claim for his method of treating the decrepit that it will thwart death or even postpone the inevitable end of man. He simply says that his experiments with men and beasts convince him that it is possible to keep men vigorous, which should mean useful, beyond the time when they naturally begin to fail physically. Dr. Brown-Sequard resorted to sheep to secure the life-giving ingredient of his mixture, but these gentle animals are still most useful to man as wool producers and as rascals.

Dr. Voronoff finds in monkeys the gland essential to be grafted into decrepit man in order to rejuvenate him. This is the first serious intimation that monkeys might be made to serve a useful purpose, save as entertainers. And there will be wide doubt whether it can be regarded as useful if we grant credence to the claims of Dr. Voronoff. We may question if the monkey treatment will make old men as active as the jungle denizens robbed for their benefit, but that will interest the student less than the fact apparent by his mere statement Dr. Voronoff has made monkeys out of about as many people over the earth as Brown-Sequard did.

Verily, hope springeth eternal in the human breast. The wonder is that men are not more discriminating in placing their hopes.

BARRING UNDESIRABLES.

Secretary Lansing doubtless spoke with knowledge of the facts when he told the senate committee on foreign relations that thousands of undesirables in Europe are seeking passports that will permit them to come to the United States. This statement was made in connection with his plea that wartime restrictions on immigration be retained for a time.

It may be true that we cannot operate the industries of the nation at full capacity unless we have some European labor, but we certainly can get along better with a shortage of labor than to admit those who come here merely to sow discord and incite disorder. No doubt some of the European governments would be glad to be rid of the bolshevistic element and to that end might assist them to come here did we permit it. Recent events have demonstrated, if further proof were needed, that we have been too lax in admitting aliens without regard to character. This statement is no reflection on those born on foreign soil who are truly devoted to the principles of this republic.

The Americanization of foreigners that has been urged cannot reach those who do not want to be Americanized. It will be futile in the cases of those who would Russinize rather than Americanize. We can help those that want to be helped to appreciation of our system of government. While we are talking about deporting those who advocate the overthrow of our institutions we should be foolish to admit others infected with the same ideas.

THEY NEED CAUTION.

Automobiles are not instruments of death. They should be means of pleasure, rather than means of causing so much sorrow. Small children should be instructed that a motor car in motion is a dangerous piece of machinery and should be avoided.

Children should be taught to look to the left before crossing a street, and then to look to the right when in the center of the street. If they would follow these simple instructions they would never be run down.

They should be taught to go to the curb when alighting from a trolley car, and there to wait until the car has pulled away before attempting to cross the street. In this way, they can easily observe approaching motor cars.

Teach your children never to "hop" an automobile nor to steal a ride on the rear or running board of a car. Children should be impressed with the dangers of allowing a motor car to tow them on their bicycles. This is very dangerous.

Also, never allow your children to play in your car when it is parked. The brakes might let loose or some other distressing thing might occur and the children might be injured.

And best of all, teach your child that automobiles have the right of way on the streets; that the sidewalks are for the use of pedestrians.

BACK UP THE "X".

Many busy business men are engaged this week in soliciting funds and memberships for the local Y. M. C. A. These men know that the "X" is an institution which does more for the youth of the city than any other because it is the only place where boys have an opportunity to assemble and enjoy clean, healthful atmosphere such as they require to make them fit for the manhood they are approaching.

The funds are needed to pay for improvements which have been made to provide more comforts for members of the association. Secretary Stoller has made many changes in the present building which are for the better. He gives assurance that if the public gives support he will make other changes which will be beneficial to the members.

Let's all get behind the "X" and help to place it in the front ranks. One of these days we are going to have a bigger, more modern building so that we may enter the lists with any similar institution in the state. But in the meantime aid in making what we have yield the greatest service to the community. It is a good investment.

WE NEED A STOCK PAVILION.

Rock county has become a great pure-bred stock producing center. Janesville is naturally the hub of the county. The last few months we have had several sales of stock. These have been held at the fair grounds and have brought buyers from nearly every state in the union.

DO IT WELL.

Do it well, whatever your duty.
Make of it a thing of beauty.
"Though the task be mean and humble,
Do it well and never grumble.
In your toiling and your playing
It's yourself that you're portraying.
In the things you're called to do
Daily life discovers you.

Young man into battle starting.
Heed these simple words at parting!
If you'd rise to fame and glory—
If success shall be your story—
Do your humble duties gladly.
Do them well and never badly.
Never pause and never rest.
Until you have done your best.

Let no heedless method claim you,
Let no finished labor shame you.
On the work that leaves your fingers
Something of yourself still lingers.
Fame or shame are you pursuing
Through the tasks which you are doing.
By your toil you rise or fall;
Do it well or not at all!

Do it well! whatever your duty.
Make of it a thing of beauty.
Sign not overmuch for pleasures.
Take no pride in half-way measures.
Slight no task however humble
Or with greater tasks you'll stumble.
Fame and glory shall be won
If you leave your work well done.

Sketches From Life — By Temple

With the Actors on the Job

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

New York, Oct. 22.—"I'd like to see that show, but I won't pay any such price!"

This is the remark that you hear everywhere along Broadway these days. It may be an almost constant refrain from the passing multitude, as it hesitates before the theaters, gazing longingly at the posters. But it is a very real and not an ultimatum. Few really mean it, as the line before the box office shows. The theatre-going public has never been more thrifty than at present. Never has there been a more prosperous theatrical season. Never have there been more appreciative audiences. Never have there been so many ticket brokers. Deprived of theatrical entertainment during an entire month because of the actors' strike, people seem to be doing all they can to make up for lost time. It is not unusual now for a house to have most of its seats bought out a week in advance by theatre and theatre ticket agencies. The other night four theatres within a radius of a few blocks had nothing left but standing room when the box offices opened in the evening.

A trip to the nearby ticket agencies showed them to be equally barren of tickets for that evening. A few were to be obtained for the less popular hits, which are soon to leave New York, and these were gratefully accepted at a 50 cent premium by the people who jostled and crowded each other in the doorway.

Theatre Is Popular

This sudden tremendous popularity of the theatre prevails in nearly all of our larger cities. One woman ticket agent in Chicago, is making $5,000 a week through the sale of seats on the 50 cent premium basis. It is a well-known fact, moreover, discussed with some anxiety by the theatre managers, that the sale of ticket scalpers are prohibited from charging more than 50 cents in excess of the box office price of a ticket and notice to this effect is printed on the back of every ticket. But the law appears to be broken regularly. During General Pershing's visit and while the world series was being played, the theatre was so crowded and the demand for theatre tickets was so much larger than the supply that $5 was not at all a high price to pay for a seat in the balcony.

In view of these things, it scarcely seems possible that last summer much fear was being expressed with regard to the fate of the theatre. Then all the managers were complaining how the movies were ruining their business, and if it wasn't for the movies they would be out of business. And now they are finding that the theatre is not only getting along famously ever since.

Strike Recalled With Humor

Possibly this accounts for the fact that the managers can now talk with good-natured tolerance of those harrowing days when 24 of the leading Manhattan playhouses were closed, and when several theatres were losing $750,000 a week each. The strike is now recalled by the managers with much the same tender humor that a man feels for some boobyhood of his boyhood. After hearing the discussion of the strike, one would think that the strike was an affair of their own invention, designed to bring about the present era of prosperity.

"The strike was practically a failure as far as the actors were concerned," declared the manager of a Broadway theatre the other night. "We got everything we wanted—a five-year contract and an open shop. We can hire as many non-union members as we want to."

"What about the extra pay for holidays and rehearsals?" inquired the reporter.

"The majority of the producing managers were already making such payments," replied the manager. "Only one large producing firm was affected by this feature, so far as I know."

Upon only one phase of the strike are the managers still sensitive, and that is the money they lost through it. The profits they are making now do not begin to cover those lost during the month of August, they assert.

Actors are Cheerful

The actors are also cheerful about the results of the strike. They, too, are firmly convinced that they won it—that they got what they wanted. According to them, the chief issue involved was the recognition of the Actors' Equity association as the official representative of the actors by the Producing Managers' association. This issue the actors won. Every day or so the two associations meet amicably and settle various complicated contract cases handed down from the strike days.

First this was the only issue. The Actors' Equity association wanted what's in a name, an especially a high salary. Some folks seem to give the photographers just a few whistles taken.

ed the producing managers to re-organize the equity contract, calling for extra pay for extra performances given on Sundays and holidays. The managers refused on the grounds that the equity represented only a few of the actors and actresses. The equity promptly showed its importance by calling out its members from theatres which did not have equity contracts. A strike was on. Much to its own surprise, the equity, instead of losing in popularity by this action, was immediately flooded with applications for membership. In the first week of the strike, hundreds of new members joined the chorus stamped.

The A. E. A. had not been concerned with the problem of the chorus members. But it courageously determined to make the chorus' troubles its own, now that a general rebellion had been precipitated. A minimum salary of $25 a week and a clause requiring managers to provide costumes and especially shoes and stockings for the chorus was then referred to the Equity's terms of settlement.

These were all the actors' demands. For these things they affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Recognition for the union and clothes for the chorus caused Marie Dressler to join the Women's Trade Union league, and made George Cohan retire from theatrical business, with the remark that he would run an elevator before he employed union actors in his production. With you will remember, one of the equity members so promptly replied that even if he ran an elevator he would have to have a union actor in his elevator. George Cohan, however, was delighted to know that he has not been reduced to the indignity of such a position. Fortunately, the strike ended before he lost all of his money.

ASK US

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information may write either to the Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau, Washington D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by the bureau.

Q. What is the penalty for a man who impersonates a government agent by wearing a badge? C. C.

A. The penalty is a fine of not more than $1,000, or more than three years imprisonment, or both. If you know of any such case you should report it at once to your nearest United States marshal or to the bureau of investigation, department of justice, Washington, D. C.

Q. Has a serum been discovered to cure tuberculosis? G. B.

A. The United States public health service says that up to the present time scientists have not produced a vaccine or serum which will cure tuberculosis even in its earlier stages.

Q. You stated in recent answer in this column that the shortest sentence of which you were aware which contained all the letters of the alphabet was "The red fox jumps quickly over the lazy brown dog." Is the following sentence, containing all the letters, a shorter one? "I, J. D. with five dozen liquor jugs." L. J. D.

A. Yes, and more to the point.

Q. Is there a direct steamship route from New York to Belgium? E. D.

A. No there is not. At the present time the most direct route is by boat from New York to Rotterdam, Holland, and by rail to Belgium. The Cunard line says that in a few weeks boats will be operating between New York and Belgium direct.

Q. Where is the largest oil boom in the United States at the present time? J. A. G.

A. The geological survey, says that the largest oil boom is in north Texas, in Ranger, Burke, and Burnett districts.

Q. Is it necessary to be a high school graduate to enter a hospital training school? A. G.

A. Some hospitals admit girls who have had two years of high school training, though they prefer graduates.

Q. What is a good way to keep loose pickles in a stone jar from molding? C. V.

A. If the pickles are kept below the surface of the brine they will not mold. If pieces protrude, the so-called potato bacillus will grow upon the exposed surface and cause spoilage. Even after the mold has got a start it will disappear if the pickle is submerged.

Q. What proportion of Americans are Christians? C. C.

A. The total number of church members in the United States at the time of the last census was 2,044,374. Of course this number does not include all believers of the Christian faith in the United States.

Q. They say they know the devious methods employed by the managers, who do not fight their grievance out in the open but in the safe seclusion of the managerial offices. Even here they do not lose their tempers. The recalcitrant actor is never threatened, but is always promised an attractive contract. The most savage actor is apt to prove tractable under such persuasion.

But perhaps it is wrong to say that the equity really fear the risk of the idyll. If merely finds it annoying, for, as one of the members declared, "Here is an organization reaping the benefits of all the terms we fought for and getting some of the biggest plums in the biggest theatrical pie we have had for years."

The Chamber of Commerce this morning received a telegram from Senator Lenroot regarding the appeal of that body for empty freight cars to be used in transporting sand and gravel. The telegram from the Wisconsin senator says: "Have had the matter up with the railroad administration. On account of the coal situation every available car is being diverted for coal traffic. Absolutely nothing can be done immediately but railroad administration says that in the latter part of the week they may be able to give me something more encouraging."

CROWDS GRAB UP BARGAINS AT SALE

"Around to the side door, madam," admonished Officer 6 who was guarding the front door at the rummage sale which opened this noon in the Bandy Drug store.

Handy held back the surging mob demanding entrance to what promised to be the greatest rummage sale in this city. Within the air was dense, the crowd hot on the trail to offset Mr. H. C. L. Every size, shape, color, and more or less wearing apparel was represented. Furniture of every description and style was exhibited.

Here a man held away with a love of a auctioneer mediating whether it would fit the wife, or not. There another of the few men who braved the crowd, trying out a typewriter which had invited his attention.

At the rear end of the store a woman tussled with a gas stove which seemed a most unusual rummage. Fingering the hundreds of novelties which were heaped on one of the counters, trying on coats, speculating on the future of the clothing store, and then after every member of the family was fitted out, emerging from the front doors with huge bundles of the goods covered by the sale.

The sale is an annual one, the proceeds going into the City Federation fund.

Many of the women of the federation were in charge.

CONFINEMENT OF MORONS IS URGED

That the state and nation must immediately make better provision for the care of imbeciles, idiots and other degenerates, or suffer continued crime and disorders, was the subject matter of the address given by Dr. H. C. Werner, superintendent of the new state school for the feeble-minded at Union Grove, Wis., at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Society for the Study of the Feeble-Minded, held at the Janesville hotel this noon.

Citing the case of sub-normal people as a national problem, Dr. Werner told of the different classes of degenerates and their bad effect on society. He said there are more than 5,000 morons in Wisconsin today who are not being cared for in an institution.

Subjects to determine whether they are of the lowest class—the idiot—the second class, the imbecile, or the moron, he said, are the subjects of the conference.

He said the intelligence of a 3-year old child while a moron's mind is developed no more than that of a 13-year old child, he said.

MANAGER ZANIAS MAKES STATEMENT

Coming to the Apollo next week is a picture powerful, heart appealing and intensely dramatic "The Miracle Man." This picture has attracted wide attention throughout the country, wherever it has been exhibited.

The picture is a Paramount-Art-Craft production which made a profound impression when it appeared in a serial in Munsey's Magazine. Geo. M. Cohan made a wonderfully successful play out of it which ran on Broadway for a long time. It will be here for one whole week at the Apollo Theatre. Manager Zanias has issued the following statement in connection with this wonderful picture.

"It is with great pleasure that I make the announcement that I have secured the 'Miracle Man,' one of the greatest photo-plays ever presented in this country. In viewing the 'Miracle Man' I was thrilled as no motion picture has ever thrilled me before. I realize that I had been seeing one of the really great screen masterpieces of all times. Then and there I decided to bring this wonderful picture to Janesville and play it for one solid week so that every one in this city and vicinity could see it.

Don't Get The Wrong Dessert

Many housewives who want Jiffy-Jell get the wrong dessert. They expect a real fruit flavor—a condensed fruit juice. They look for a bottle in the package and they fail to find it.

Be careful of the name. There are names which sound like Jiffy-Jell, but the product are not like it.

Jiffy-Jell is the only dessert with these fruit-juice essences in vials. The fruit is crushed then the juice is condensed and sealed in glass vials.

You get real fruit in Jiffy-Jell and the flavor is abundant. You get the delights and the healthfulness of fruit. And fruit is needed daily. But you will not get these bottled flavors if you don't get Jiffy-Jell. Be careful.

MRS. WILLIAMS' AGED RESIDENT, IS DEAD

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Evansville, Oct. 22.—The death of Mrs. Lydia A. Williams, aged 80 years, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred A. Baker, Tuesday morning. Mrs. Baker was born in Pennsylvania in 1840. She came to Rock county 20 years ago and has since made her home in and near Evansville.

The Modern Way of settling an estate is to place it in the hands of a modern trust company, that cannot be influenced by personal prejudice, whose existence is perpetual and whose financial responsibility is unquestioned.

Many people have recently changed their wills and named this experienced Trust Company as executor and trustee in the place of friends and relatives who, perhaps, have had no experience. Have you given this important matter your careful consideration?

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

The Island of Samoa is to have a certain Miss Jean Begg carries out her present plan. Miss Begg and her husband, Mr. Begg, have been in Samoa for nine years in the Pacific Islands teaching the natives. She has only just recently arrived in New York for the purpose of studying the American methods of nursing the three R's.

Miss Begg, originally of New Zealand, has devoted her efforts to the cause of the native children, and she is now taking a course at the New York School of Social Work, where she has finished there she will take a post graduate course at one of our universities. When she finishes her courses she expects to return to Samoa and take up her teaching under the most approved American methods.

SERBIAN WOMEN TO VOTE

Serbian women have been enfranchised by governmental ukase. A cablegram just received by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association and the International Woman Suffrage Alliance from Belgrade reads as follows:

"The National Council of Serbian women on the occasion of the first congress of Yugo-Slavian women at Belgrade salute you as the president of the International Alliance, with the expression of their profound sympathy, happy to be able to announce to you that the Serbian government has issued a ukase giving Serbian women the right to vote."

(Signed)

President of the Woman Section, Mrs. M. S. V. VOULOVITCH, President of the Council, DANITZO CHRISTLICH.

The action of the Serbian government in enfranchising all the allied countries of Europe save France, Italy's victory is accounted for, as the Italian chamber has passed the Martini suffrage bill by a huge majority, and Italian women are sure the senate will do likewise. In East Africa and Rhodesia women have been enfranchised during the last few weeks. Moreover, women have been given the suffrage in all the enemy countries, save Bulgaria and Turkey. In the Duchy of Luxembourg women have the vote. The women of Sweden and Holland have gained the right to vote. The only one of neutral countries whose women remain unenfranchised.

"While virtually all Europe has become self-governing," says Mrs. Catt, "American women are still struggling with the heavy machinery of which the federal suffrage amendment is the instrument of its freedom can be set in place and national wide suffrage secured."

INDIGESTION

Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, due to acid stomach. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.
There are other stomach disorders which also are signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating after eating, food regurgitating, sour eructations, etc. These symptoms, however, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, effluvia of the breath, rheumatism, indigestion, black weakness, isomelia, melancolia and a long train of physical and mental ailments that keep the victim in miserable health year after year.
The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it possible.
One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without result. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."
We have thousands of letters telling of the marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC today. It will be just an eructation in its praise. Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big box from him. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

The Nujol Treatment as Sickness Prevention

Science, with anti-toxins, serums, and modern sanitation, has done much to prevent dangerous disease; but the diseases so checked are comparatively few. On the other hand, 90% of all diseases have one common origin—constipation.

The dangers of constipation are so far-reaching, because the blood receives poisons from an infected mass within, and carries them directly to every organ of the body; and because constipation itself keeps the system in a run-down condition so that any infectious germs from without readily gain foothold.

Keep clear of constipation and you guard against serious disease. Nujol will remove constipation and prevent its return.

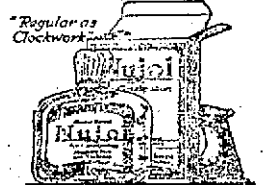

The action of Nujol is entirely different from that of any other constipation remedy. It is not a drug. Nujol softens the food waste and encourages the intestinal muscles to act naturally.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

For valuable health hints—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) 50 Broadway, N.Y.

Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Beware of cheap imitations. The name is Nujol. You may suffer from substitution.

Doctor Issues Warning And Tells How to Stop Tobacco Habit

New York: Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: "I am often asked if I know anything to stop tobacco habit and I always recommend Nicotol, which I have prescribed with great success. Nicotol contains no habit-forming drugs, is absolutely harmless and produces astonishing results in a very short time. The use of tobacco saps the vitality, vim, vigor and ambition of the slave who is enslaved by its addictive effects. It undermines the health and general ability, brings on liver and kidney trouble, headache, nervousness and even blindness. Physicians the world over often trace the start of the above diseases and many others to nicotine poisoning. If you want to free yourself from tobacco go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets. Take one tablet after each meal and in a short time you will have the desire for tobacco craving will have left you. With the nicotine poisoning out of your system, the general health will quickly improve.

Note: When asked about Nicotol tablets, one of the leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit—always cured anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturer to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists including People's Drug Co. and The Reliable Drug Co.

Pleasant Hallowe'en Party at Home Can Be Arranged with Little Cost

If you are going to have a Hallowe'en jamboree, there are so many delightful kinds of parties and entertainments that it is hard to decide just what to do. The ghost party or masquerade, however, is always a favorite, and it is just as appropriate for little folk as it is for grown-ups. The first thing of importance is, of course, the invitations. Here is a little verse which can be written on correspondence card and with little black witches pasted on either side it makes an attractive invitation to a small girls or boys' party. The clever young girl could probably make up an original verse and paint the witches in the corners.

My house is going to be the scene of a spook party on Hallowe'en. When Jack O'Lanterns glow about and scary goblins shriek and shout, and if you want to come to the party, perhaps you'll see some witchcraft, then.

But surely you'll be taken to task if you don't dress up and wear a mask.

MARY JONES,
24 Blank Street.

Grown-ups can have a great deal of fun by sending out little verses like this on the installment plan. That is, they should send out four or five, each one a different shape, and then send these pieces, one at a time, to the hidden guests. The atmosphere of mystery will be built up by the card and it will be fun for the guests to have to put their puzzle invitation together. The address will be kept for the last piece.

The hostess can make most of her own decorations if she will but take the time. Furniture can be shrouded in sheets and pillowcases, and this is a good way to keep good furniture from being ruined by the hands of little folks. Touches of color can be added by making streamers of orange and black crepe paper and trimming the walls and windows with cut-out witches, cats and pumpkins. Some women find that decorations and trimmings can be purchased as cheaply as they can be made, and go to a lot of novelties, place cards and table decorations.

The table shown is trimmed in a very simple manner, but experience gave 15 cents or so for paper cups. It was done by a woman who lives on a farm and so she had all of the pumpkins, corn and wheat at hand. She bought the ordinary little paper cups, tied wheat around them and filled them with salted nuts and popcorn. Popcorn can also be used to fill these favors. She used the pumpkins to make pies and to can and the corn was just dried and hanging in the house. Nothing was lost. This table could be made a little more elaborate by buying a set of paper napkins and tablecloth to match with pumpkins and other figures on it.

What to Serve.
The menu for a Hallowe'en supper may vary, according to the wishes of the hostess, but there are certain things that are usually included.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, languor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order. Prof. Hommeier says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance in the human body, but it is as deadly as a snake's venom. The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sitting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation. A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the bowels are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, flatulency, debility, yellow skin or jaundice. At such times one should take castor oil or a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of Mayapple, leaves of aloe and jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets."

Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: "I am often asked if I know anything to stop tobacco habit and I always recommend Nicotol, which I have prescribed with great success. Nicotol contains no habit-forming drugs, is absolutely harmless and produces astonishing results in a very short time. The use of tobacco saps the vitality, vim, vigor and ambition of the slave who is enslaved by its addictive effects. It undermines the health and general ability, brings on liver and kidney trouble, headache, nervousness and even blindness. Physicians the world over often trace the start of the above diseases and many others to nicotine poisoning. If you want to free yourself from tobacco go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets. Take one tablet after each meal and in a short time you will have the desire for tobacco craving will have left you. With the nicotine poisoning out of your system, the general health will quickly improve.

Note: When asked about Nicotol tablets, one of the leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit—always cured anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturer to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists including People's Drug Co. and The Reliable Drug Co.

SIXTEEN YEARS SEARCH ENDED

Young Says Tanlac Did the Work When Everything Else Had Failed.
"When I found Tanlac, my search of sixteen years for a medicine or treatment that would overcome my troubles was ended," said James Young, a well known carpenter who lives at 467 Cramer street, Milwaukee, Wis., the other day.
"I spent a small fortune for medical and treatment during that time," continued Mr. Young, "and for all the good it did me I might as well have thrown the money in the street. I had a bad case of stomach trouble, and everything I ate would sour and I would be so badly swollen from gas afterwards that I would be perfectly miserable. Sometimes this gas would rise up into my chest and cause my heart to palpitate something awful, and I would have the worst sort of stomach aches. I was badly constipated all the time, and I honestly believe I had the worst spells of headaches a human ever had. I would frequently roll over all night long and not sleep a wink, and when morning came I was so tired and weak I could hardly get out of bed. I have to tell you, I was a wreck from biliousness, and finally got so weak and run down that I lost lots of time from my work, and in fact, I had to spend a good portion of my time in bed."
"Then I heard about Tanlac, and thought, I would give it a trial. Well, sir, I have only been taking this medicine a short time, but it's a great truth. I have improved so much that I can get out and do as much work in a day now as I could in a week before I began taking it. It is simply wonderful the way Tanlac has overcome all my troubles after everything else I tried had failed to even give me temporary relief. I have to tell you, I was a wreck from biliousness, and finally got so weak and run down that I lost lots of time from my work, and in fact, I had to spend a good portion of my time in bed."

HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN IS DOPED TO DEFEAT DEAF MUTES OCT. 25

Football hopes at the local high school are rising as prospects for the first victory of the season loom high. Coach Lewis' eleven will invade Delavan Saturday afternoon, to clash with the first team of the State School for the Deaf and Dumb, in what promises to be a real gridiron battle. The blue and white squad should emerge victorious if doped on early season games can be relied upon.

Delavan high school's team defeated the deaf mutes by two touchdowns three weeks ago and later walloped Janesville by the same score. Since that first game the local squad has improved at least 50 percent in all departments of the game. The line has developed a charge, the offense has been able to report for practice so far this week. Unless Black is in condition for the game with the "dummys," chances for a victory will appear dark.

Many loyal rooters are planning to accompany the team to Delavan Saturday. A number will make the trip in cars.

Delephanty's Drive In 1894 Longer Than Ruth's Smash

BY RUD WILLIAMS.

Babe Ruth's final home run at Washington park was not the longest hit ever made there, though sporting writers have been so describing it. At any rate, that is what Jack Egan, veteran pitcher and umpire and now business manager of the Providence Eastern league team has to say about it.

Ruth's homer went over the fence and has been dubbed "the longest hit ever seen in Washington." And there have been some slanders made in the park of the Senators. Ruth is a real old-fashioned swatter, and can launch out the pill with the best of them, but Egan says the longest of the Washington park.

"I don't want to take any honors from Ruth," says Egan, "but I think the longest hit ever made in Washington, or anywhere else, was made by Ed Delephanty. It happened back in 1894. This is the way it happened.

"I was pitching and made the mistake of laying one over for Ed, and Oh, how he walloped it. The ball went over the fence in left field, and kept on going until it had gone over a bunch of trees that skirted the fence. And it takes some crack to drive a ball over the left-field fence at Washington. You can imagine how hard Delephanty must have hit this ball, mine when he sent it not only over the fence, but over the trees around it.

"To drive a ball to the right-field wall at Washington is not such a feat as driving one to left field. And it was to right field Ruth drove his hit.

"Ruth is a hitting demon, but his smash at the ball didn't come up to Delephanty's. And I hope never to see another such smash, either. The men in the big leagues sure used to be some experts with the bat."

"Tris Speaker of National League," Right Title for Roush, Series Hero

center gardens and about half of them were chances that called for a great fielder. The fact that Roush booted two of his opportunities does not indicate that he played those two poorly, but that he went after two that ordinarily wouldn't have landed near enough to a fielder to make an error possible. Happy Felsch of the White Sox was the only other fielder to handle nearly as many chances as Roush, and Felsch had only twenty-six opportunities to star.

Several of Roush's catches were made at the risk of personal injury, due to the fact that he ran into the stands and crowd to pull down long drives. Half a dozen, we don't recall the exact number, of his spectacular plays halted rallies that for a time threatened the Red lead if not victory.

Many fans expected more of Roush on the offensive than he produced. He batted only .214 in the series. He collected six hits in the eight games, but three of those hits were extra base wallops, two doubles and one triple.

He showed his speed on the sacks by purloining two bases.

BADGERS IMPROVE AS ILLINI GAME NEARS

Madison, Oct. 22.—The gates of Camp Randall still remain closed while the Badgers prepare for their struggle with the strong Illinois team next Saturday, and all spectators are daily shooped out of range while Coach Richards stores up a few more tricks in his still unopened bag.

The strong freshman team, which has been practicing for several weeks with Illinois formations, is being used against the varsity, but with little success. Holmes, freshman halfback, eluded the first team ends, and second defense with a trick formation of the Illini, running 70 yards for a touchdown. The yearlings are kept well in hand during most of the scrimmaging, however, and the Badgers are becoming accustomed to the southerners' methods of play.

Showing great improvement during the last few days, the Badgers are to be reckoned more than ever as factors in the "Big Ten" championship. Their scores have not been decisive, but their performance has shown finish, and hinting of power still hidden.

But the Badger warriors will not go to battle the Illini with the same confidence of the other contests. The strength of their opponents is by no means underrated, and with Minnesota at the guards, Ender and Smith's hardest and most important games.

The first defense has been greatly strengthened by new combinations and is being perfected further as the new running mates work together. Capt. Carpenter at center, Scott and Bunge at the guards, Ender and Smith at tackles, make a formidable barrier, well balanced by the stars, Meyers and Weston in the wing positions. The backfield remains the same. Davey at quarter, Jacob at full, and Sandt and Smith at halves, alternating with Elliott and Gould.

Freddie Welsh Freed Of Charge of Biting

New York, Oct. 22.—Capt. Freddie Welsh, U. S. A., formerly lightweight champion pugilist of the world, was discharged by a magistrate yesterday when arraigned on the charge that he had bitten Harry Pollok, his former manager, in the ear.

Pollok, for the third time, according to a police officer, failed to appear to press the charge.

Capt. Welsh, who was in uniform, said he was through with the fighting game forever. He asserted that Pollok's charge was unfounded.

HOPPE ONLY UNBEATEN ENTRY IN TOURNEY

New York, Oct. 22.—Welker Cochran, by defeating Ora Morningstar 400 to 122 in the second day's play of the national championship 18.2 ball line billiard tournament in the Hotel Astor, regained some of the prestige he lost by his defeat at the hands of Willie Hoppe Monday night.

The Iowa boy outplayed the Pacific coast expert from the start, running up 245 points in his first four innings. In the third he nursed the balls along the rail for 105 points. His average was 44.43 points.

The other youngster of the tournament, Jake Schaefer, also scored his first championship victory by defeating George Sutton, the Chicago veteran, 400 to 221 in 20 innings. In the thirteenth Schaefer ran off 113 points, but Sutton came right back in the same inning with a run of 135.

The veteran faltered there, however, and Schaefer was not in danger at any time.

Champion Hoppe won his second victory of the tournament by defeating Koji Yamada of Japan, 400 to 129 in eight innings, the average of 50 being the highest made so far. He ran out with 115 in the final inning.

He showed almost uncanny skill in nursing the ivory along the rail and had an earlier run of 133.

Yamada scored an easy victory over George J. Slosson by a score of 400 to 249 in twenty-nine innings. Open table play caused the latter part of the match to be somewhat dreary.

Hoppe, with two victories, is the only unbeaten entrant. Schaefer is thought to have the best chance to upset him.

In 1918 Wisconsin produced 8,722,000,000 pounds of raw milk with a money value to farmers of $215,000,000. Wisconsin has nearly 2,000,000 dairy cattle, 180,000 farms producing milk, 2,500 cheese factories, 858 creameries, and 54 condensereries.

SPORT SNAP-SHOTS

BY JACK KEENE.

A favorite occupation of experts for the moment is rebuilding McGraw's infield for him next year, though any plans McGraw has in that direction he is keeping to himself and when the time for the rebuilding comes he will do it himself.

Evans William E. Hanna in the New York Herald. Yet it is expected he will make changes.

The time is near at hand for young blood to be injected into the Giants' infield and McGraw is fortunate in having one youngster of unusual promise in Frank Frisch. There's a start right there for the rehabilitation. However Frisch turns out, it is hard to remember another case of a youngster jumping into the thick of a hard and critical series with the nerve and ability shown by the Fordham lad and of surviving an exacting test as well.

McGraw, no doubt, is looking to next year and has had that partly in mind in the shifts and swaps he has made this summer to improve his pitching staff. He will start next year with a strong corps of pitchers, thus having foundation strength.

A large part of the strength of any baseball club lies in the line which starts with the catcher's space and extends out through the middle, which takes in, in other words, catcher, pitcher, shortstop and second base and center field.

Look over the teams which have won the pennants and world's series and see whether nearly all of them haven't been strong the length of this line of operations. The other positions are the outposts of defense and see whether the bulk of the work falls to those in the avenue described which is the main avenue for the waging of defensive warfare.

With the catchers and pitchers he has, McGraw has this and his center fielder well guarded for next year. In Fletcher he has a man who ought to fill the bill for another year or two, also giving the steady influence in the young outfield. In center he has Kauff, not the best center fielder in the game, but one on whom it will be hard to find a better.

The American Association recently closed the 1919 campaign with St. Paul winning the pennant. The season was one of the most successful in the history of the league. President Thomas Hickey has announced that the total attendance for the year was near the 900,000 mark. These figures mean that more than $3,000 will be netted for the players' fund, which is to be divided among the first seven clubs, according to the standing. The 1919 race was cut down to 184 games, but so popular was the game there is a strong sentiment among the club owners to return to the 168 game schedule next season.

Joe Beckett, heavyweight champion of England, and Jimmy Wilde, kingpin of the little fellows of the British ring, are like many of their predecessors, products of the boxing booths of England's country fairs. A booth consists of a staff of boxers who tour the towns at which fairs are held, the manager of the booth offering a money prize to any pugilistically inclined natives who can go three rounds with one of his boxers.

It's a rough game for the boxers, for the booths are run on the level and no fake opponents are planted along the route. Famous American boxers at one time or another have toured this country meeting all comers, but the crowds of late years the fighters usually have had confederates distributed through the audiences at the theaters at which they appeared, and the resulting "contests" were not genuine.

London.—There is nothing gloomy about Mr. J. C. Malcolm, coroner, although he has officiated at 2,630 inquests during his forty years' term of office. In spite of his 88 years, he is still brisk and animated, as ever, working every day in the week, and often presiding over 10 inquests a day.

He tells an amusing story of a missing jurymen. "There are only 11; where's the twelfth?" the foreman was asked. "Please, sir, he has gone away about some business, but he has left his vote with me," was the unexpected reply.

BLUE LAW FOR COWS.

Hazleton, Pa.—The Hazleton Ministerial association has requested dairymen to discontinue the delivery of milk on the Sabbath. Replying to the request A. F. Howes, a local dealer, calls attention to the fact that there is no known way of making cows go dry on Sunday except killing them, and he contends that would result in dry Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, as well.
